

Shirt & Jacket

Use innovative technology to further improve the daily items and provide more optimized basic matching styles. T-shirts and POLO shirts are made of enhanced fabric with emphasis on fiber function and weaving texture. The combination of adhesive bonding, sewing, liquid lycra and plate type technology can reduce friction and thickness caused by traditional sewing and improve wearing comfort. The appearance is more concise and clean, and at the same time additional functionality and lightness. We hope to provide a platform for the creation of future scientific and technological products through continuous research and development and experiments.
