SENSIL BREEZE COOLING FABRICS WILL BE IN FOCUS AT PERFORMANCE DAYS

NILIT, the worldwide leader in Nylon 6.6 for active wear, intimate apparel, hosiery and other apparel will showcase at the upcoming Performance Days trade show to be held from in Munich on April 18-19. The show provides a unique forum where fashion professionals and textile suppliers can discover and share latest product, trend and market innovation ideas for the apparel market.

Nilit's Vice President of Global Marketing and R&D Pierluigi Berardi will also present a workshop on April 19. Sensil will showcase at the Performance Days Fabric forum selections from premium European fabric producers, and these fabrics will be designed with Sensil Breeze, to provide athletes with a refreshing cooling effect when body heat and temperatures rise. Cooling fabric technology is just one topic that Pierluigi Berardi will discuss in the Performance Fabrics for People and Planet workshop.

Sensil is the premium Nylon 6.6 from Nilit for apparel that is used in intimate apparel, legwear, activewear, athletic wear, outdoor apparel, denim, and other products. Nilit is a producer and marketer of high quality Nylon 6.6 fibres for apparel and other products. The company was founded over 40 years ago in Israel and has grown to be one of the largest Nylon 6.6 producer, with manufacturing and marketing operations in key regions including Europe, North America, Latin America, China, Asia Pacific, and Turkey.
